A BUSINESS FUTURE.

Nevada is throwing off its blankets and is stripping for the race there is before it against time. It has been slow in getting ready for the business contest there is before it, but it was not its fault as it always has had in it the right kind of stuff to make a fast score.

The Spanish bit that had been used to hold it in the back ground while it fretted under a severe check has been removed, it is reasonable to believe for all time. The people are getting ready all over the State for the future contest. It is before them connected with the development of the State's industries. Nevada has been reduced till there was nothing remaining but life and a few fragments capable of first-class work under favorable conditions.

It has shed its old coat and appears from its action to be under the direction of a different trainer, who understands his business on the race track of life, where communities and States contend to reach a goal equal to their ambition and the resources they contain. There has not been a year from the beginning of Nevada as a State that has given such promise of general development as the year 1901. There has not been a more healthy prospect in view from the outlook tower of general prosperity as there is seen at this time all over the State.

Confidence is on the increase wherever men are engaged in business. There is not a day that passes away that a report of some new enterprise does not reach the JOURNAL. These reports of new undertakings have a compass so different from anything hitherto known in the State that it is surprising to an old Nevadan when he learns about them. General business is so far in advance of anything known in the past, that it gives an impression that death is receiving new life, or that there is going forward a resurrection of dead things.

The business vitality of the State upon an estimate made upon reports made last spring about new business undertakings, and reports made at this time respecting new business development is not less than one hundred per cent over last spring about this time. The JOURNAL made it a duty to direct the attention of its readers to the beginning then made in business enterprise for the purpose of aiding the buds then making an appearance through business development to become shoots full of business life and vigor.

The future was specially mentioned in connection with the life and business confidence then in the State, and a grand future in business was mentioned as likely to follow from the indications of new life in mining and other business departments which indicated permanent improvement. There has been more business development since last spring than the writer anticipated there would be. Enterprise and business confidence has increased more speedily than was then expected in the space of a year, but the increase of confidence and enterprise tends to show the vitality there is in the State's business resources.

From all there is learned respecting the present it is safe as a business proposition to say that the State has entered upon a business future which will surprise those who are in it at this time. Money, the end of all business enterprise, will be more plentiful than it has been at any time since the early days of the Comstock, and it will chiefly come from mining industries, which give quick returns when ore is in paying quantities.

Reports come from almost all mining localities of excellent ore prospects, present and future, which is a chief means to stimulate business enterprise. It is not necessary to direct attention to the future there is for other business in the State when its mines are producing, as most other departments will take the relation of bobs to its mining kite.

THE LION AND THE BEAR MAY HAVE A BONE.

It has the appearance that the newspapers will get England and Russia to pulling ears to furnish matter for a item. There is nothing in a dispute about the possession of a few miles of railroad to make two great nations go to war. There is more involved than a few railroad ties and a few iron rails, should anything come from the contention over the possession of a railroad for a short distance.

Should trouble come between the powers interested over the railroad it will show that the contention over the possession of the railroad track is a key to some situation not made known in the dispute at present. It will develop, in the event of serious relations, that there is a bone to the contention that remains buried at present, and the strip of land over which the road is laid is the way that leads to the buried bone, that will furnish the real cause of contention.

The lion has never been known to give up a bone except in one instance, and he gave that up because he had been guilty of a mistake, about which he continues to feel bad over to this time. Should there be a bone connected with the contention the bear will have to fight before he will get away with it. It will have to be admitted that the lion is not in the best of humor over the late encroachments by the bear upon the approaches to his ancient lair in the Orient. It may be that the disputed railroad track commands one of these approaches.

GOSSIP OF THE CAMP

What Miners and Mill Men Are Doing in Olinghouse Gulch.

The new mill will start up this week. W. C. Williams is down from the hills a little under the weather.

The bullion output this season will be largely in excess of that of any previous year.

Bob Sommers showed the Dispatch man some ore from the Fort Horn Hope that was lousy with gold.

Water is more plentiful than for several weeks past and placer miners are reaping an abundant harvest.

Lem Allen took to the hills today. It will be remembered he was a member of the late lamented legislature.

Their Fifth Anniversary.

The two hundred and fifty young men who compose the Reno Wheelmen's club don't intend to go to bed on the night of the 16th, but will remain up to welcome the fifth anniversary of the organization of their club with greater and more varied noises than greeted the new century.

On the 17th there will be a gorgeous cycle parade after which everybody who has a dollar can dance as long as the fiddlers are able to hold their bows. A more extended announcement of this event will appear later.

THE TRIAL
CONTINUES

Interesting Case of Price Versus
Ward in the District Court.

The case of Price vs. Ward is still on trial before the District Court and will probably extend into next week.
The plaintiff is suing for damages in the sum of $10,000, alleging that the defendant, M. E. Ward, held a deed of conveyance from Wm. E. Price, deceased, for a section of timber land near Truckee, which deed it is claimed by the plaintiff, was intended as a mortgage.
It is furthermore claimed that the land in question was thereafter sold by defendant.
Plaintiff brings the suit to recover the difference between the amount of the mortgage debt and the value of the property.
The defendant claims that the deed was an absolute one and that the purchaser of the land did so with notice of the claim of the Price estate. The case has been pending in the courts for the past two or three years.

WILL THE "601"
TAKE ACTION

Citizens of Truckee Purged Their Town at Expense of Reno.

Truckee's terrible "601," which has a record of two hangings and has whipped at the post, tarred and feathered and driven from that town its human vermin time and again is once more heard from.
The results of Editor Miller's ensade against the macaqueans, thieves, drunk-rollers, and toughs of that town was manifested night before last when the Vigilantes issued from their rendezvous, armed to the teeth and clothed in masks and gowns. The undesirables fled from that city and the majority of them came to Reno, which already had more of the ilk than the officers could successfully handle under the peculiar vagrancy laws of the State.
Within the past twenty-four hours there has been a quiet but determined move on the part of the better class of citizens. Something is in the air. In another column appears a communication which found its way in a mysterious manner to the city editor's desk. Tonight or tomorrow night may bring about developments.
Who knows?
Reno has a "601," which is quick and terrible in its action, as the history of the organization shows. It is believed their warning will be heeded.

AMATEUR
OPERATICS

The Reno Dramatic Club Will Shortly Stage the Mikado.

The amateurs of Reno have entertained the people at different times in a manner closely bordering on the professional. We have had comedies, dramas, minstrels, operas and vaudeville entertainments.
We will soon have the pleasure of witnessing another treat. This time it will be Gilbert & Sullivan's comic opera, "The Mikado." This opera has never been given in Reno.
When "The Mikado" was first produced in New York the catchy music took right hold of the people. In the houses, on the streets, anywhere, everywhere, everybody was whistling and singing "Three Little Maids from Bohool," "Tit Willow" and the many other catchy airs. Everyone was Mikado crazy and the fame of the opera spread like wild-fire from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast.
Those who have never heard this gem of comic opera should not let this opportunity pass. Those who have will be sure to go again.

Be Warned
in Time.

To all idle and dissolute persons, thieves, drunk-rollers, roughs, toughs and ten-derloin leeches:
You are notified that your room is more desirable than your company.
Hit the trail and do not return. If this warning is not heeded you will hear from "The 601."
